

Classic Bally/Stern

Display Count Per-Game Reference

The list below is meant as a reference for determining the number of 6-digit and 7-digit displays in your Classic Bally/Stern game(s). In general, earlier games used 5x 6-digit displays. Most later games used 4x 7-digit displays and 1x 6-digit display. There were some games that utilized additional displays (a display built into the playfield or additional player positions). Games with a non-standard number of displays have been highlighted in blue

Note that if you're considering the Pinitech UNO style display, instead of the standard 2-board Pinitech TRADITIONAL, it's a good idea to verify clearances around the display brackets on the lamp board. See the Pinitech UNO product page for more info on clearances.

Displays are sold in sets as follows:

6-digit Set = 5x 6-digit displays

7-digit Set = 4x 7-digit displays + 1x 6-digit display (credit/match)

*If your game requires additional displays, please email us to setup a custom order.
